

NAATP Executive Director Marvin Ventrell kicked off the 2016 National Addiction Conference tonight with exciting news of a rejuvenated NAATP with respect for the past and a vision for the future. The new NAATP brand represents a society of professional peers who respect and support one another while improving our profession.

The conference, with record attendance of 700 addiction professionals, reconvenes Monday morning at 7:30 am with breakfast in the exhibit hall sponsored by Rosecrance followed by a general session on the Neuroscience of Spirituality.
